For legal reasons, access to electronic resources licensed by Vienna University Library is limited to students and employees of the University of Vienna. u:access provides easy worldwide access to these resources after logging in with your student or employee u:account.

Please note that users without a student or employee u:account can only access these resources from special computers in our libraries or through the university's WiFi network.

Log in to u:access

Click on the button below and log in using your student or employee u:account ein:

u:access Login

u:access bookmark

To allow quick and easy login to u:access, drag the  symbol into the favourites bar of your web browser. Once you are on the vendor's website, simply click the u:access link in the favourites bar to start the login process.

u:access in the WiFi network of the University of Vienna

Persons with mobile devices that are connected to the WiFi network of the University of Vienna can access licensed resources by clicking the Login button above. This automatically connects to u:access. Continue by using the navigation menu on this page.

To activate u:access if you have already connected to a licensed resource, we recommend installing the u:access bookmark.

u:access on mobile devices

On mobile devices and browsers without a favourites bar, you need to manually create a u:access bookmark. Please refer to your device vendor's instructions on how to create bookmarks. Once you have created the bookmark, enter "u:access" as its name and the following text as its address:

A screenshot of a web browser displaying the 'Master's Thesis - 4CITIES' page. The browser's address bar shows '4cities.eu/master-thesis/'. The page features a large, dark, textured background image of a tunnel with light at the end. Overlaid on this image is the text 'MASTER'S THESIS' in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters. Below the image, the page has a white background with a section titled 'The 4CITIES Master's Thesis' in bold. The text describes the thesis as a unique piece of independent research in urban studies, consisting of a well-written text in English and a public defense session. It mentions that a thesis judged to be of very good or excellent quality is a strong indicator for an academic career and that the thesis accounts for 30 ECTS out of a total of 120. The text also states that students select their own topic of research, considering personal interests, professional expectations, disciplinary background, and the capacity of 4CITIES staff to supervise. The topic should be in the field of urban studies and ideally make use of a student's previous disciplinary expertise while exploring new disciplinary grounds. The thesis should be a mix of theory and case-studies, where students take full advantage of the European and comparative approach of the 4CITIES program. The thesis should consequently have a strong transnational and comparative angle. At the bottom right, there is a small link for 'Privacy & Cookies Policy'.
